Introductory Text

Place an introductory text on the content of this report

The interest of rangeland and forest sector has a major role in the preservation of ecosystems and biodiversity. It is the preservation of the environment from degradation and therefore in maintaining ecological balance and working to feed and provide housing for the beneficiaries of the sponsors of pasture and forest products.

Accordingly, the Ministry of Agriculture is currently playing a significant role in this area and is planning therefore:

1 - The implementation of a national project on the identification of areas of forests and rangelands in the Sultanate by using GIS techniques and remote sensing. It is currently documenting the sites calibration area with other land uses and then works on the formal adoption of the jurisdictions. It is expected to obtain the correct areas at the end of 2009.

2 - The coordination of the implementation of a national pilot project on the inventory, monitoring, definition and classification of trees and shrubs of forests and rangelands including the type of pests and diseases affecting their area, their geographical distribution, causes of degradation and the carrying capacity of livestock as well as other data. The project is expected to be completed by the end of 2010.

Thus, the vast majority of data required by this report is not currently available, unless the projects are mentioned in particular the second project.

We also note that it had been a number of meetings for the national FRA correspondents from different parts of the world. Detailed explanation was provided on how to fill out the forms and tables and included discussions and useful interventions in assisting the national correspondents for the mobilization of these tables. However the National Correspondent in the Sultanate of Oman and his deputy has never been invited through official bodies to attend such meetings which impact negatively on their understanding the best way to fill in the data.

Consequently, we agree and adopt the information in the tables with respect to previous years and agree on the validity and credibility of the stakeholders in question, and could therefore be reliable as an indicator of expectations for the year 2010 without any change.

As for the data that we add in those tables are currently available to us

| Forest | N/A | The estimates of forests and other wooded land are from 1990 except for mangroves and Baswillia plantations (5000 ha in total), where the estimates are valid for 2000. Due to lack of other information, it has been assumed that no changes have taken place in the area of natural forest and other wooded land since 1990. |
| Other wooded land | The estimate for other wooded land includes all wooded grasslands. It also includes some areas of Juniperus which may qualify as forests. | N/A |

Other general comments to the table

Information on the area of rangelands and forests is primary information that has not been formally adopted by the concerned State. The forest area of the FRA 2005 was used for the FRA 2010 due the lack of data. However new data will be available by the end of 2010 when the Remote sensing survey / mapping project will be completed.

3.1 Categories and definitions

| Category | Definition |
|--------------------------------|--|
| Growing stock | Volume over bark of all living trees with a minimum diameter of 10 cm at breast height (or above buttress if these are higher). Includes the stem from ground level up to a top diameter of 0 cm, excluding branches. |
| Net Annual Increment (NAI) | Average annual volume of gross increment over the given reference period less that of natural losses on all trees, measured to minimum diameters as defined for "Growing stock". |
| Above-ground biomass | All living biomass above the soil including stem stump branches bark seeds and foliage. |
| Below-ground biomass | All biomass of live roots. Fine roots of less than 2 mm diameter are excluded because these often cannot be distinguished empirically from soil organic matter or litter. |
| Dead wood | All non-living woody biomass not contained in the litter either standing lying on the ground or in the soil. Dead wood includes wood lying on the surface dead roots and stumps larger than or equal to 10 cm in diameter or any other diameter used by the country. |
| Carbon in above-ground biomass | Carbon in all living biomass above the soil including stem stump branches bark seeds and foliage. |
| Carbon in below-ground biomass | Carbon in all biomass of live roots. Fine roots of less than 2 mm diameter are excluded because these often cannot be distinguished empirically from soil organic matter or litter. |
| Carbon in dead wood | Carbon in all non-living woody biomass not contained in the litter, either standing, lying on the ground, or in the soil. Dead wood includes wood lying on the surface, dead roots and stumps larger than or equal to 10 cm in diameter or any other diameter used by the country. |
| Carbon in litter | Carbon in all non-living biomass with a diameter less than the minimum diameter for dead wood (e.g. 10 cm) lying dead in various states of decomposition above the mineral or organic soil. |
| Soil carbon | Organic carbon in mineral and organic soils (including peat) to a soil depth of 30 cm. |
