

Climatic impacts of warm El Niño events (April-September)

El Niño has different impacts in different parts of the world and at different times of the year. During the northern hemisphere summer, El Niño has been associated with drought in Indonesia, northern Australia, India and northeastern Latin America.

