Agriculture starts with seeds.
Quality seeds boost food production and contribute to climate change adaptation. FAO's comprehensive approach ensures farmers throughout the world have better access to quality seeds.