

Food and Agriculture
Organization of the United Nations

THE MEDITERRANEAN DIET IN THE CONTEXT OF SUSTAINABLE FOOD SYSTEMS

With the technical support of FAO

14 May 2015 :: 16.15-17.15 :: EXPO conference center

Chairs

Sandro Dernini, FAO/FMFC and Roberto Capone, CIHEAM-Bari

Speakers

From the model to practice

Elliot Berry, Hebrew University, Israel

Nutrition transition and sustainability

Rekia Belahsen, Chouaib Doukkali University, Morocco

Environmental benefits

Massimo Ianetta, ENEA, Italy

Connecting territory and economy

Felice Adinolfi, Università di Bologna, Italy

Challenges for a new cultural conception

Xavier Medina, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya/ ICAF-Europe, Spain

With the participation of

Lluís Serra Majem, President, International Foundation of Mediterranean Diet, Spain and Antonia Trichopoulou, President, Hellenic Health Foundation, Greece

Conclusions

Alexandre Meybeck, FAO, Italy

Within the programme of the International event "Does the Mediterranean diet still exist?" and organized by:

In collaboration with the FAO/UNEP Sustainable Food Systems Programme

Schweizerische Eidgenossenschaft
Confédération suisse
Confederazione Svizzera
Confederaziun svizra

Swiss Confederation

Federal Department of Economic Affairs,
Education and Research EAER
Federal Office for Agriculture FOAG

