The HLEF:

- noted that that persistence of food insecurity in countries in protracted crises can no longer be tolerated
- urgently called on HLEF stakeholders to put the needs of countries in protracted crises at the forefront of a new commitment to improve and enlarge investments to address food insecurity
- noted that such transformative process requires new solutions and ways of working in partnership

39 Key outcomes of HLEF

- As requested by the 36th and 37th sessions of the Committee, elements for an A for A have been identified :
  - country ownership and accountability for response strategies is critical;
  - the critical role of governance, fragility and peace building processes in addressing food security in protracted crises
  - the contribution of food security in addressing state fragility and conflict resolution.
  - the need to develop more flexible, responsive and stable funding mechanisms and investment vehicles suited to the specific needs of protracted crises situations.

39 Key outcomes of HLEF

- A number of possible immediate actions have been identified :
  - Mainstreaming food security concerns into other agenda and plans of actions such as the New Deal of Engagement in Fragile States.
  - Creating a multi-stakeholder knowledge platform to share lessons learned and analyses related topics.
  - Promoting resilience at the core of selected responses to food insecurity in protracted crisis.

The Committee expresses satisfaction with the High Level Expert Forum on Food Insecurity in Protracted Crises (HLEF) and welcomes the report on the discussions and outcomes of the Forum as summarised in the document CFS 2012/39/7. In particular, the Committee:

- 1) Recognises the seriousness, particular characteristics and nature of food insecurity in protracted crises situations;
- 2) Notes the role of the Forum’s findings and recommendations in guiding further action to promote food security in protracted crisis countries and contexts;
- 3) Re-iterates its support for a consultative process including all relevant stakeholders with a view to presenting for consideration by the CFS Plenary an “Agenda for Action for Food Security in Countries in Protracted Crises”, building as appropriate on the elements provided in para 28 of CFS 2012/39/7;
- 4) Requests the CFS Bureau in consultation with the Advisory Group and the Secretariat to oversee the process of arriving at an “Agenda for Action” as per the decisions of the 36th and 37th sessions of the Committee.
- 5) Calls for immediate, purposeful and coherent action by all stakeholders to promote food security and nutrition in the context of protracted crises.
