Noel D. De Luna
Chairperson, Committee on World Food Security

During the recent 35th Session of the Committee on World Food Security (CFS), a reform was agreed that aims to make the CFS the foremost inclusive international and intergovernmental platform dealing with food security and nutrition.

As the incoming Chairperson I have the pleasure to attach an Information Note which contains an overview of the status of CFS and some of the changes the reform will bring. I encourage you to participate in this new venture towards improving global food security and nutrition.

If you have any queries regarding the reform of CFS and the terms of your participation please send them to FAO-CFS@fao.org.
