

Para 27. To increase linkages between CFS and the regional and country levels, Member States are encouraged, at their discretion, to constitute or strengthen multidisciplinary national mechanisms (e.g. food security networks, national alliances, national CFS) that would be connected with CFS in Rome and would include all key stakeholders dedicated to advance food security at national and local levels, in particular, where feasible and suitable, the RBAs country offices”

ANNEX E

Para 2 a)

Proposal of amendment as follows

As a first step to better link CFS to the regional and country level by leveraging on or encouraging the creation of regional and national FSN multistakeholder platforms to be connected to CFS in Rome, CFS Members and other relevant stakeholders can contribute to the creation of a CFS repository that would include a list of the existing such platforms, indicating the functions and actors involved; as well as names of CFS focal points at country-level in ministries, platforms, institutions and agencies. This would contribute to the dissemination and use and application of CFS policy outcomes, with the active engagement of the RBAs country offices into above mentioned platforms, when feasible and suitable, but also to the development of CFS policy convergence process through the provision of technical inputs from a wide range of relevant actors. Indications should be provided on the type of support required from the national focal points to guide their nomination.
