2. Sharing experiences and good practices

(i) Panel Presentations

The panelists¹ are given 10 minutes each to outline their experience, with special attention to the challenges met, the results obtained and the good practices, that have contributed to make their experience successful. Panelists who have held events in line with the Terms of Reference² will be asked to share how the Terms of Reference have contributed to make their experience successful.

All panelists will discuss how the design and results of their experiences have contributed to the objective of the Voluntary Guidelines to support the Progressive Realization of the Right to Adequate Food in the Context of National Food Security (“The Guidelines”). They also discuss how their experience resonates with the findings of the submissions that have adopted a similar approach in implementing the Guidelines. CSM will present an analysis of the use and application of the Guidelines.

(ii) Plenary discussion

Participants are invited to ask questions to the panelists and comment on the presentations based on their experiences.

¹ The proposed profiles for the panelists are based on the submissions received, the intent to give priority to submissions on multistakeholder events and to showcase different levels of the submissions (national, regional and global), and to reflect the diversity of experiences of CFS members and participants. The selection should be as diverse as possible, taking into account gender diversity as well.

² CFS 2016/43/7 Terms of Reference to share experiences and good practices in applying CFS decisions and recommendations through organizing events at national, regional and global levels

3. Wrap up

The moderator summarizes the session, focusing on progress made in implementing the Guidelines and achieving their main objective, including successes, limitations, challenges and good practices.

H.E. Mario Arvelo, Chair, Committee on World Food Security, closes the event and presents the conclusions that will be included in the report.
