DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Under the general supervision of the Officer-in-Charge FAO Somalia, the technical supervision of the Agricultural Development Economics Division (ESA) and the Nutrition and Consumer Protection division (AGN), and in collaboration with FAO Regional Office for Africa (RAF) and the sub-regional office for Eastern Africa (SFE), the Chief Technical Adviser of the Food Security and Nutrition Analysis Unit will:

- provide overall managerial, technical, operational and strategic guidance to the Food Security and Nutrition Analysis Unit (FSNAU), while ensuring excellent communication with partner institutions, including UN and donor agencies, NGO's and Somali government institutions;
- prepare and implement annual work plans and budget, using the logframe approach developed for the project document and in consultation with all relevant FSNAU staff and officers in TCE, ESA and AGN;
- review progress towards work plan targets and project objectives, capturing status in six-monthly progress reports in line with FAO's rules and procedures, and ensure proper reporting to the FSNAU Project Management Advisory Committee;
- carry out and/or supervise periodic in-depth studies on pertinent food security and nutrition topics, and manage appropriate access to FSNAU data and knowledge products;
- supervise and manage project staff, including the recruitment and training of new staff both within Kenya and Somalia;
- provide technical guidance to FSNAU and collaborating partners in relation to methods and techniques for purposes of early warning and in the monitoring and analysis of the overall food security and nutrition situation in Somalia;
- contribute to inter-agency initiatives and processes at national and regional level, and to the development of normative products at global level; in particular, provide technical input to the Regional Food Security and Nutrition Working Group;
- supervise and be responsible for timely clearance of documents, reports and press releases, as well as for Web content and relationships with the media;
- ensure that all FSNAU activities in Somalia are carried out in strict adherence to prevailing UN DSS MOSS regulations;
- given the multi-donor nature of the FSNAU project, ensure good relations with resource partners;
- perform other related duties as required.
