

Antimicrobial Resistance: from commitment to action

When Monday 17 July 2017, 13:45–15:00

Where Plenary

Who should attend? Codex Members and Observers

Objective This event aims to share the work done so far by FAO and WHO in collaboration with OIE, in the area of foodborne AMR. In particular it will address the scientific information already available to support future Codex work, the gaps that exist and the approaches to address them. In illustrating the move from commitment to action, the event will also introduce the new work starting under the ad hoc taskforce on AMR (TFAMR) to be chaired by the Republic of Korea.
