

UN SIDE EVENT ON BBNJ Capacity Development in the Context of Climate Change:

Possible Modalities for Implementing BBNJ Capacity Development Regarding Area-based Management, Environmental Impact Assessment, and Marine Genetic Resources

Tuesday, March 26, 2019, 1:15 to 2:30 PM, Conference Room A

Co-organized by the International Coastal and Ocean Organization (Secretariat of the Global Ocean Forum (GOF), the Permanent Mission of Monaco to the United Nations, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission (IOC) of UNESCO, ATLAS, and the Ocean Policy Research Institute of the Sasakawa Peace Foundation, Japan

Building on a multi-institutional Policy Brief on BBNJ Capacity Development presented at the last BBNJ session (<https://bit.ly/2C0FuvD>), this Side Event addresses possible modalities for capacity development on the other three major emphases of the BBNJ Agreement—area-based management (ABMTs), environmental impact assessment (EIAs), and marine genetic resources (MGRs), taking into consideration the possible impacts of climate change. The ultimate purpose of the Side Event is to be of assistance to States in the BBNJ process in crafting an effective and well supported system of BBNJ capacity development and technology transfer—with beneficial linkages to EEZ management—bringing together global, regional, and national levels of governance.
