

Context and operational challenges

- Rainy season has restricted access to large parts of the country, particularly Greater Upper Nile where FAO is working with the Logistics Cluster for rapid response missions.
- Insecurity and sporadic fighting in the Equatorias continue to uproot thousands of people at the height of the second planting season.
- Ongoing security related tensions in Eastern Equatoria particularly around Torit, have forced FAO to postpone the opening of a slaughterhouse.
- Confirmed outbreak of Fall armyworm threatens to exacerbate the food crisis.

Highlights

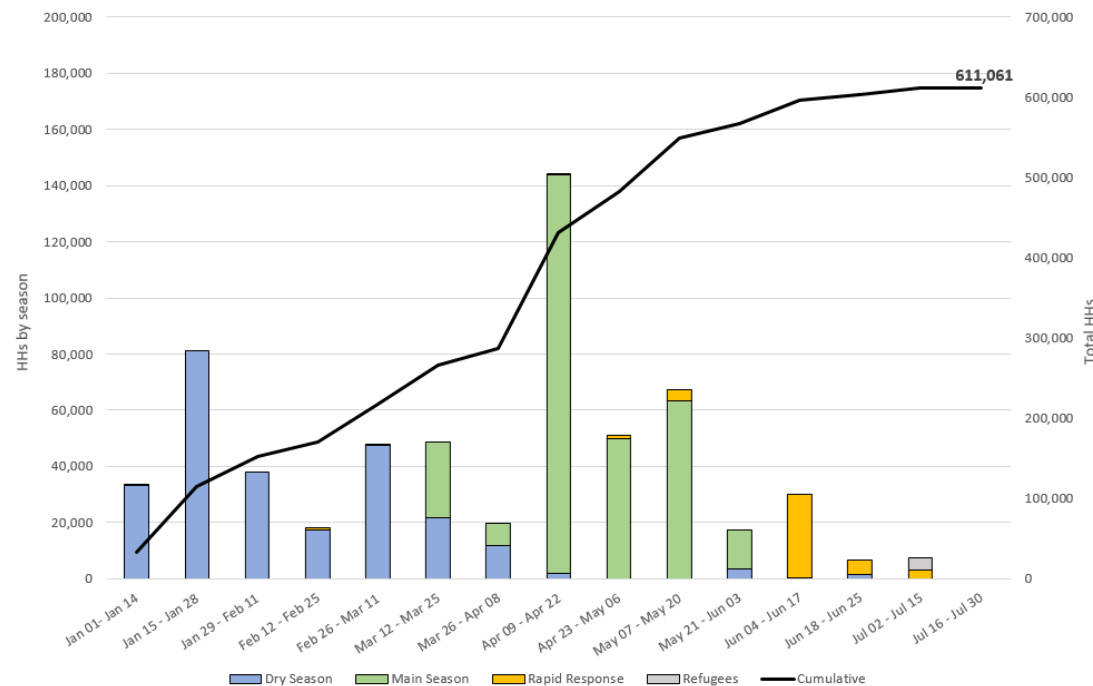

- Data is coming in from the 20th round of the countrywide Food Security and Nutrition Monitoring System (FSNMS) assessments being conducted in preparation for next IPC release (planned for September).
- Crop assessments are ongoing, with a focus on monitoring the outbreak of the Fall armyworm, and preparations are underway for an updated Crop Watch Bulletin to be released in mid-August before the harvest season begins.
- Post-distribution monitoring of all projects is complete, and will be finalized mid-August.
- OCHA-led multi-sector assessment to Mvolo County to investigate unconfirmed reports of hunger related deaths.
- FAO Farmer Field Schools and Junior Farmer Field Schools have started for this season in Eastern Equatoria.
