

Paths to a Resilient Future:

What does the evidence tell us?

What do we still need to learn?

REGISTER NOW

Take advantage of our early-bird registration rate

Resilience Measurement, Evidence and Learning Conference 2018

November 13-15, 2018, Jung Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana, U.S.A.

Registration is now open for the Resilience Measurement, Evidence and Learning (RMEL) Conference 2018. You can register at the early bird rate of $275 until September 14, 2018.

	Rate	Deadline
Early Bird Registration	$275	September 14, 2018
Regular Registration	$375	November 5, 2018

BOOK YOUR HOTEL ROOM NOW!

The RMEL Conference 2018 will take place in New Orleans (U.S.A.) at the Jung Hotel and Residences. The hotel has a special offer for conference attendees at a discounted rate of $189 per night for November 12-15, 2018.

Follow this link to book a room. For assistance with your booking or questions about the hotel, please contact: don.zimmer@junghotel.com.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

November 12: 2-5 pm	RMEL CoP member business meeting and networking (RMEL CoP Members only)
November 12: 6-7:30 pm	Pre-conference reception for all participants (All conference participants welcome)
November 13-14: ALL DAY	Conference plenaries, panels, papers, and poster sessions
November 15: ALL DAY	RMEL CoP convening and skills-building day (All conference participants welcome)

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The conference is co-convened by the Resilience Measurement, Evidence and Learning Community of Practice \(CoP\) in conjunction with member organizations and its partners.

The RMEL Conference 2018 sets out to:

- accelerate resilience-strengthening progress through improved measurement, analytical strategies, and learning; and
- bring forward evidence about what works for enhancing the resilience of people and systems in differing contexts.

ABOUT THE CONVENING AND SKILLS-BUILDING DAY

The RMEL CoP convening and skills-building day on November 15 is open to all interested conference participants, and RMEL CoP members are strongly encouraged to participate. The day will provide further opportunities to network, and to work with others to develop innovative agendas for the RMEL field. There will be opportunities to:

- Develop an interactive map of existing resilience evidence and knowledge, and identify critical gaps for further research and evaluation.
- Develop an overview of how the lessons and knowledge being generated through RMEL are being translated into resilience practice, and identify opportunities to strengthen the links between research, evaluation and practice.
- Explore the application of RMEL approaches, analysis and evidence to help shape resilience investment and policy agendas.
- Join one or more RMEL skills-building opportunities, provided by RMEL CoP members.

Further information about these activities and how to select which ones you will join will be provided in September.

RMEL CoP MEMBERS – ANNUAL MEMBER BUSINESS MEETING AND NETWORKING

Please note that RMEL CoP members are invited to participate in an annual member business meeting on the afternoon of November 12. This meeting will provide an opportunity to input to the CoP's business plan for 2019 onwards.

The business meeting will be followed by a pre-conference social event and celebration of the RMEL CoP's Innovation Awards, open to all conference participants.

KEY DATES

- Notification of proposal acceptance or rejection: August 13-August 21, 2018
- Early-bird registration deadline: September 14, 2018
- Final presentations and other session materials due: October 26, 2018
- Registration closes: November 5, 2018

For more information, visit our website!