

Disease notification and follow up activities

Blagojcho Tabakovski, DVM, Head of unit for Animal Health

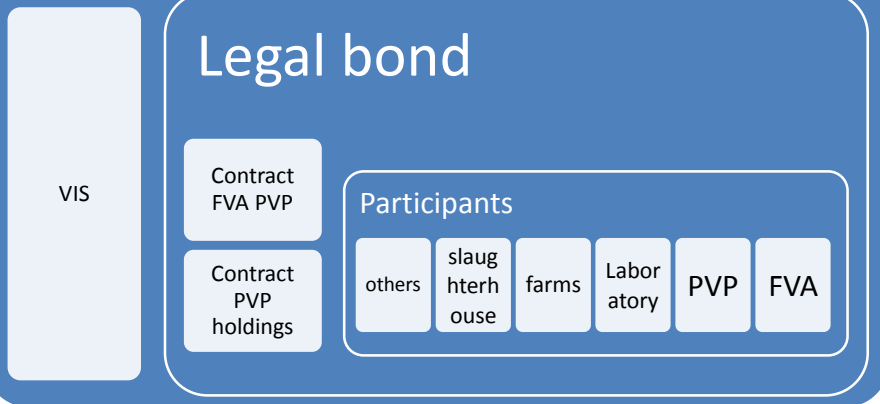

Content of the presentation

2

- Disease notification
- Surveillance network
- CND
- Legal frame
- Proceedings in suspect case
- Usual constrains
- Measures on holding

Surveillance network – Article 64

- Member of OIE (WAHIS)
- Candidate country (ADNS)

Disease notification

5

- Article 49 of the Law on animal health
 - Diseases with high impact
 - Diseases subject of programme
 - Diseases with low impact
- Article 50 segregation/isolation
 - Responsibility to report
 - Responsibility for isolation
- Article 51
 - investigation of disease
 - measures on holding

Disease notification

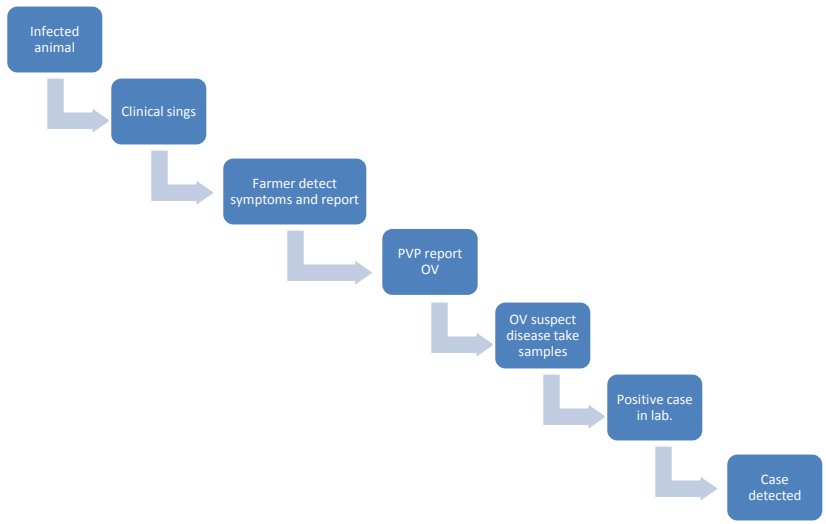

6

- Sampling
 - Type of sample
 - Dispatch and transport
 - Data in VIS
 - Accompanying letter
 - Module for notification of disease
- BoR on Notification of diseases and list of CND OJ 36/17
 - OIE
 - EU
 - PVP responsibility (form Annex 4)

Objective 7

- Early detection
 - Minimize consequences
 - Optimize the control and eradication measures and costs
 - Regain the ability to export
 - Comply with rules for notification
- Maintenance of the free status
 - Surveillance network operational
 - Good passive surveillance
 - Providing evidence

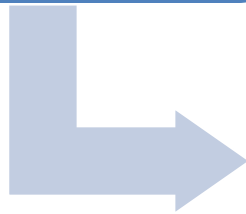

Notification – surveillance in practice 8

Notification – surveillance in practice

9

Infected
animal

No Clinical
sings

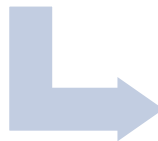

Notification – surveillance in practice

10

Infected animal

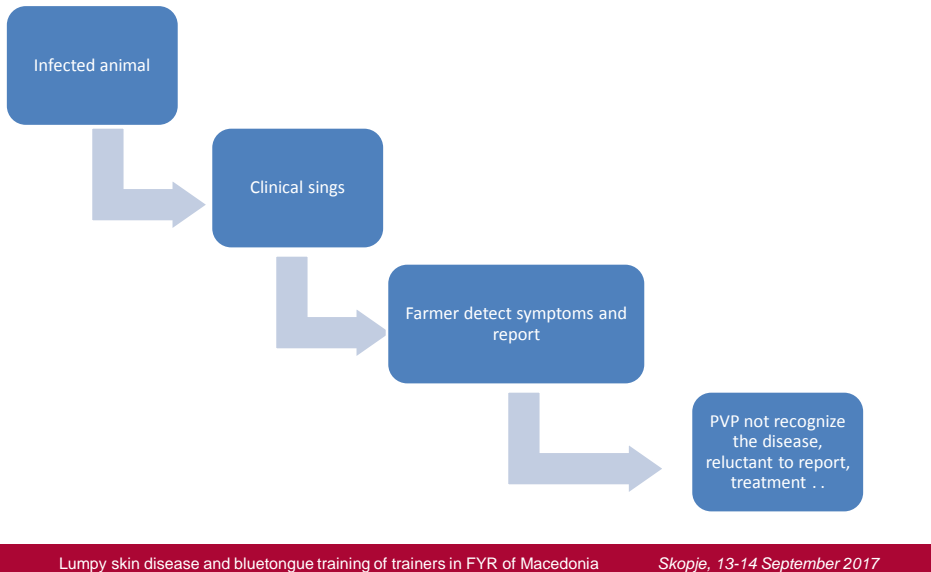

Clinical sings

Farmer has not detect symptoms, not checked
the animals (grazing), reluctant to report . . .

Notification – surveillance in practice

11

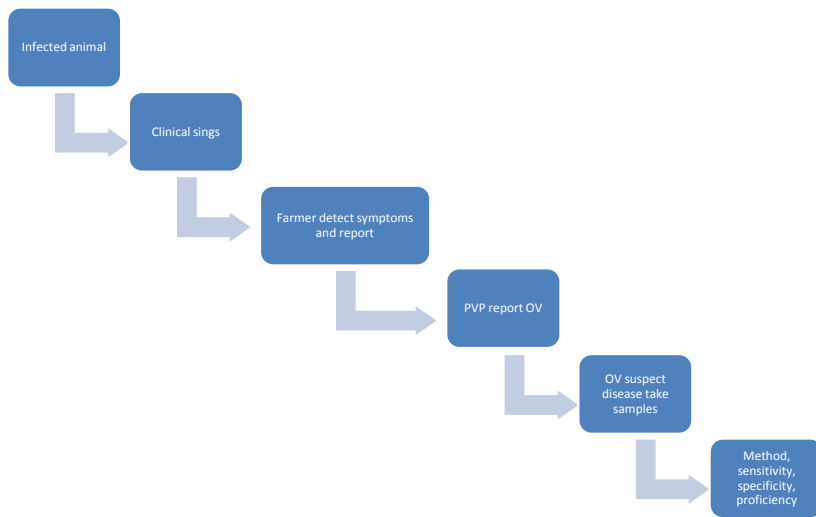

Notification – surveillance in practice

12

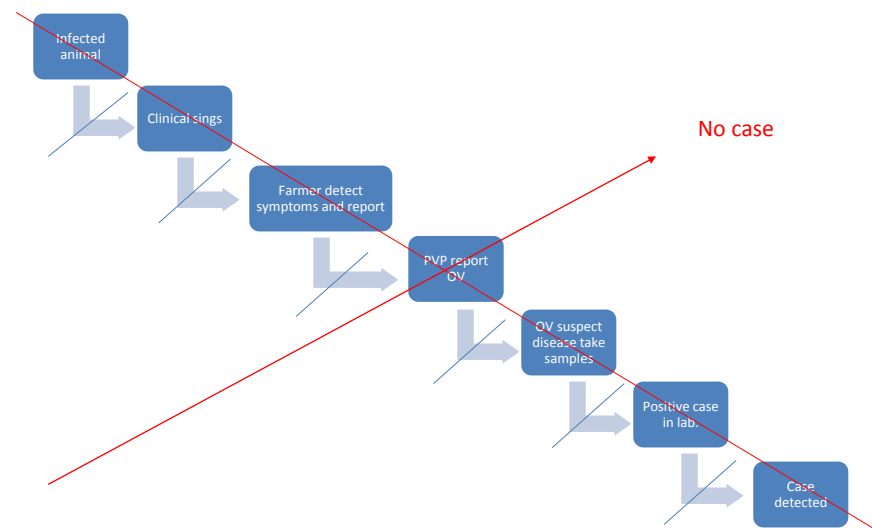

Notification – surveillance in practice

13

Notification – surveillance in practice

14

- Epidemiology of LSD and BT
 - Clinical
 - Subclinical
 - Post-mortem
 - Vectors
- Awareness, all stakeholders
 - Guideline, brochures, posters, other media
 - Trainings, communication
- Effective compensation mechanism in place
- Observation of procedures
 - legislation
 - SOP
- Laboratory capacity
- Data management

Questions
Thanks for your attention