to know more about our vision and get inspired by local to global experiences on integrating food systems in urban policy, planning and actions.

The New Urban Agenda (NUA) acknowledges the centrality of Food Security and Nutrition in Planning for Sustainable Cities.

“ We commit ourselves... to improving food security and nutrition, physical and mental health...”
[New Urban Agenda - clause 67]

“ We will promote the integration of food security and nutritional needs of urban residents, particularly the urban poor, in urban and territorial planning, in order to end hunger and malnutrition...”
[New Urban Agenda - clause 123]

FAO has been actively participating in the integration of those 2 pillars in the NUA, and in March 2019 launched the FAO Framework for the Urban Food Agenda.
