I. INTRODUCTION

1. The Eighty-fifth Session of the Committee on Constitutional and Legal Matters (CCLM) was held on 23 and 24 February 2009. The Session, open to silent observers, was chaired by Mr Julio Fiol (Chile). The Members of the Committee listed below were represented:

   Chile, Gabon, Indonesia, Lesotho, Netherlands and United States of America

II. COMPLETION OF THE REVIEW OF AMENDMENTS INITIATED AT THE EIGHTY-FOURTH SESSION

2. The CCLM agreed with the arrangements proposed for the session and, in particular, stressed that it was important to conclude the review of the proposed amendments to the Constitution of FAO, which had been initiated at its Eighty-fourth Session.

3. So that the Conference Committee and all Members could have a complete view of all proposed amendments agreed upon to now, the CCLM requested the secretariat to prepare an appendix to its report presenting all proposed amendments to the Basic Texts agreed to by the CCLM so far, as well as amendments to the Rules of Procedure recommended for adoption by the Committees concerned.
(a) Appointment and term of office of the Director-General and related matters

4. The CCLM resumed the review of the issue of the appointment and term of office of the Director-General and outstanding related matters examined at its previous sessions on the basis of document CCLM 85/2 containing draft amendments to Article VII of the Constitution and to Rule XXXVI of the General Rules of the Organization (GRO).

5. The CCLM endorsed the text of revised Article VII, paragraphs 1 and 3 of the Constitution, reproduced in the appendix to this report.

6. The CCLM reviewed the proposed procedure to deal with an unexpected vacancy in the office of the Director-General set out in revised paragraph 3 of Rule XXXVI of the GRO. The CCLM recalled that it had asked the secretariat to make a proposal for an ad hoc accelerated procedure building upon current procedures of Article VII, paragraph 3 of the Constitution. The CCLM agreed with the proposed amendment which, without defining the substance of the accelerated procedure, called upon the Council to make promptly the required arrangements for the election of a new Director-General.

7. The CCLM noted its earlier discussions on current provisions of paragraph 2 of Rule XXXVI of the GRO whereby the Deputy Director-General acts as Director-General in the event of a vacancy in the office of Director-General or in the event that the Director-General should be unable to act. The CCLM noted that it had requested the secretariat to make proposals to deal with the matter, following inter-agency consultation as appropriate, in the light of the decision taken that there should be in future two Deputy Directors-General. The CCLM endorsed the proposal that the Deputy Director-General with greater seniority in the position should act as Director-General in any case where the Director-General is unable to act or in the event of a vacancy in the office of the Director-General. In case both Deputy Directors-General were appointed at the same time, the functions should be exercised by the Deputy Director-General with greater seniority with the Organization, or if both have the same seniority by the Deputy Director-General who is older (new paragraph 5 of Rule XXXVI of the GRO).

8. In connection with the above, the CCLM noted the proposal whereby an acting Director-General should exercise caretaker functions and functions of an interim nature and facilitate the process of election of a new Director-General. Following review of the matter, the CCLM considered that the proposal could raise difficulties of interpretation and should be removed. In this connection, the CCLM noted that no doubts could arise as to the need for the Governing Bodies to take prompt steps for the election of a new Director-General in the event of a vacancy, but in the meanwhile it was important that the acting Director-General should be able to manage the Organization effectively.

9. The CCLM endorsed the revised provisions set out in Rule XXXVI of the GRO also reproduced in the appendix to this report.

(b) Regional Conferences and Technical Committees

10. The CCLM noted that, at its Eighty-fourth Session, it had endorsed the substance of the proposed amendments to Article IV and Article V of the Constitution regarding Regional Conferences and Technical Committees. While expressing its concurrence with the substance of the proposed amendments, the CCLM agreed to examine again the issue of whether they should be set out in Articles IV and V, or whether there should be a distinct new Article dealing only with Regional Conferences, or a distinct Article regarding both Regional Conferences and Technical Committees.
11. The CCLM noted the observations made by the secretariat regarding the need to follow a general principle of economy when amending important legal instruments, as well as a need for utmost caution when renumbering provisions of primary legislation, as this was likely to lead to misunderstanding in cross-references. The CCLM noted that the addition of a new, distinct Article to the Constitution would require renumbering of all subsequent Articles of the Constitution which would, in turn, involve considerable consequential amendments to other provisions of the Basic Texts and to working practices, terminology and nomenclature used in the Organization.

12. In the light of these observations, the CCLM concurred with the earlier recommendations of the Secretariat regarding the proposed amendments to Articles IV and V of the Constitution regarding Regional Conferences and Technical Committees, reproduced in the appendix to this report.

13. The CCLM reviewed and amended the content of proposed new Rule XXXV of the GRO, reproduced in the appendix to this report.

(c) Other issues arising from the Eighty-fourth session

14. The CCLM recalled that, at its Eighty-fourth Session, the issue of the deadline for submission of nominations by Member Nations to the office of Chairpersons of the Programme and Finance Committees had been left open. The CCLM agreed with the proposal of the secretariat, made after consultation with the relevant unit of the Organization, of a deadline for nomination of twenty days before the opening of the Council session at which the election is to be held. This deadline would concern nominations by Member Nations of both Members and Chairpersons of the Committees.

15. The CCLM also referred to its previous discussions regarding paragraph 8(b) of Rule XXVI of the GRO allowing five or more Member Nations of the Organization to request the Director-General to convene a session of the Programme Committee. The CCLM requested the secretariat to propose a revised figure for the number of such Member Nations, taking into account the number of Member Nations of the Organization at the time when the provision was introduced and the current number of Member Nations of the Organization. At the Eighty-fourth Session, the secretariat informed that it would research the matter and provide the required information.

16. The secretariat informed the CCLM that the Rule had been introduced in 1957 and that the Organization had 72 Members at that time. Given the current membership of the Organization (191 Members), the CCLM recommended that the figure of five Members be increased to fifteen. Therefore, revised paragraph 8(b) of Rule XXVI of the GRO would make provision for the Programme Committee to hold sessions on the call of the Director-General, or in pursuance of a request submitted in writing to him by fifteen or more Member Nations.

17. The CCLM examined the issue of whether, in the event that the Chairperson elected by the Council should be unable to attend a session of the Committee, or be unable to exercise his functions, the Vice-Chairperson should be able to vote and whether this should be reflected in revised Rule XXVI of the GRO. The Committee noted that, under the new procedures, the Council would first elect a Chairperson from among the nominated representatives of Member Nations of the Organization and that the Chairperson would be elected on the basis of individual qualifications and should not represent a region or a country. Under the new scheme the Chairperson would not vote. However, the Members of the Committee elected on a regional basis were expected to represent their regions and should vote.
18. The CCLM noted that the Committees were due to amend their Rules of Procedure in particular to reflect the fact that the Chairperson would not vote. On that occasion, it would be possible, though a revision of the Rules of Procedure, to clarify that a Vice-Chairperson acting as Chairperson would be able to vote. The CCLM noted that situations where a Vice-Chairperson would be acting as Chairperson would be of an exceptional nature and, furthermore, the normal decision making method of the Committees is by consensus.

19. The CCLM noted that the Committees could amend their Rules of Procedure to deal with the matter. Revised Rule IV of the Rules of Procedure of the Committees could read, \textit{inter alia}, as follows:

\begin{quote}
“The Chairperson of the Committee elected by the Council shall not vote.

Each representative of a Member of the Committee, including a Vice-Chairperson acting as Chairperson, shall have one vote.

\end{quote}

20. The CCLM endorsed revised Rule XXVI of the GRO, as reproduced in the appendix to this report. Revised Rule XXVII concerning the Finance Committee would be established on the basis of this Rule.

III. DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY OF THE DIRECTOR-GENERAL

21. The CCLM reviewed document CCLM 84/7 entitled “Delegation of authority by the Director-General” regarding implementation of IPA Action 3.43, on which there had been an informal exchange of information at its earlier session.

22. The CCLM noted that the document reflected extensive research and inter-agency consultation and that, in general, it was considered throughout the United Nations system that executive heads had inherently the right to delegate authority while retaining accountability towards the relevant Governing Bodies. The CCLM also noted that the Conference Committee had discussed the matter extensively and that IPA Action 3.43 was the outcome of a long process of review of the matter.

23. The CCLM endorsed the following new paragraph 5 of Rule XXXVII of the GRO:

\begin{quote}
“The Director-General may delegate authority and responsibility conferred upon him by this Rule to other officers of the Organization in accordance with the agreed principle of delegation of authority to the lowest appropriate levels. The Director-General shall remain accountable to the Conference and Council for the direction of the work of the Organization, in accordance with Article VII, paragraph 4 of the Constitution”.
\end{quote}

IV. CRITERIA FOR DISTRIBUTION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS IN THE BASIC TEXTS

24. The CCLM examined document CCLM 85/3 entitled “Criteria for distribution of proposed amendments in the Basic Texts”. The CCLM noted that the issue addressed in the document had been the subject of a general discussion at its Eighty-third session and that the document had been prepared in response to a request made on that occasion. The CCLM observed that the structure of what was commonly referred to as the Basic Texts was a complex one consisting of instruments of different rank in the hierarchy of legal texts. The CCLM noted that Volume I of the Basic Texts consisted of the Constitution, the General Rules, the Financial Regulations, and the Rules of Procedure of the Council and of a number of committees, whereas Volume II included a number of Conference resolutions and other decisions on important matters.

25. The CCLM concurred with the views of the secretariat that the matter was of considerable practical importance for the preparation and review of draft amendments and noted that there was a need for the secretariat and the CCLM to continue to prepare and review amendments to the relevant Basic Texts in the framework of the IPA, including possible Conference and Council resolutions and decisions.

26. The CCLM agreed that the following criteria could be followed in the process under way:

26.1. Actions involving changes to provisions which are currently set out in the Constitution, the GRO, the Financial Regulations and the Rules of Procedure of the Council and the Committees should be implemented through amendments to these same instruments;

26.2. The provisions of the Constitution, the GRO and the Financial Regulations should continue to contain the main rules of the Organization and these rules should continue to be concise provisions of a general nature. This consideration was particularly important as regards the Constitution given its status as a treaty and constituent instrument of an intergovernmental organization;

26.3. Actions involving the preparation of detailed rules on processes, working methods and administrative structures, which may need to be adjusted from time to time, should be implemented through the appropriate legal instruments in the hierarchy of legal texts, including through Conference or Council resolutions and decisions;

26.4. The Conference at its thirty-sixth session should decide, on the basis of recommendations of the CCLM and the Council, which provisions should be incorporated in Volume II of the Basic Texts.

V. ANY OTHER MATTERS

27. There were no other matters.
