

AHVLA International Conference 2011

ANIMAL DISEASES AND THEIR CONSEQUENCES

Royal Holloway, University of London, UK

13 - 15 September 2011

The AHVLA International Conference provides a unique networking opportunity for professionals from around the world, working in both animal health and zoonoses.

The programme will include a number of major symposia including:

- ★ The Med-Vet-Net Association Conference on Zoonoses
- ★ Horizon scanning in public and animal health
- ★ Contagious equine metritis
- ★ Shaping international disease control
- ★ BSE - a quarter of a century on
- ★ Animal health economics
- ★ Changes to the structure of public sector animal health delivery

The conference will mark World Vet Year 2011 in a session that will also host the Rooker Prize Lecture

This prize will be awarded for a long-standing contribution to veterinary science.

Royal Holloway, opened by Queen Victoria in 1886, is famous for the spectacular Founders building (above). The college facilities also includes the Windsor building (right), a modern conference centre.

We are pleased to confirm the following speakers:

- ◆ Bernard Vallat, OIE, France
- ◆ Kristian Moller, National Veterinary Institute, Denmark
- ◆ Nigel Gibbens, Defra, UK
- ◆ Javier Guitian, Royal Veterinary College, UK
- ◆ Peter Timoney, University of Kentucky, USA
- ◆ Andre Jestin, ANSES, France
- ◆ Sidney Ricketts, Rosedale and Partners Equine Veterinary Surgeons
