Roundtable with Traditional Donors18 October 2023*11:30-12:30 CEST*Green Room

Moderator

Mr David Laborde

Director, Agrifood Economics Division

The roundtable will examine the strategies traditional donors apply to support countries with serious risk or significant food insecurity. Their lending or grant instruments already in place as well as the alternatives they can offer to support countries' agrifood system transformation. The roundtable will be held in the morning of 18 October 2023 from 11.30 to 12.30 hours. The participation of senior management from BMZ, EIB, SDC, USAID and the European Commission is expected, among others.

Under the umbrella of the World Food Forum \(WFF\), FAO is honoured to host three Fora in parallel, building on the success we enjoyed last year by bringing together the WFF Global Youth Forum, the Hand-in-Hand \(HiH\) Initiative Investment Forum, and the Science and Innovation Forum. The opening ceremony will be followed by four days of open country presentations and bilateral meetings with investment partners and the event will end on 20 October 2023.

The HiH Initiative is a flagship of FAO and a core platform for all FAO's programme priority areas. As of January 2023, the Initiative supports nationally-led, integrative, territory-based agrifood systems transformation programmes in 63 countries in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. By introducing advanced geospatial modelling, identification and analysis of market opportunities, and robust partnership-building, the Initiative enables the collaboration and scaled-up investment required to implement and accelerate national plans for agricultural and food systems transformation. The Initiative is designed specifically to support national efforts to eradicate extreme poverty, end hunger and malnutrition, and reduce inequalities. The Investment Forum is the crux and pay-off of the partnership-building effort, providing a platform for national authorities and producers, global and national businesses, multilateral development banks and donors to discuss ways and means to finance the supported Investment Plans.

The Forum will be driven by insights from prominent food value chain participants who have been requested to present their perspectives on how to stimulate asset allocation to long-term sustainable investments across and beyond national markets. The Forum will examine sectors and opportunities with the greatest potential development impact and social and financial returns, as well as the policy and institutional reforms required to mobilize greater private investment.

INVESTMENTHAND-IN-HAND INVESTMENT FORUM 2023

17-20 October 2023

FAO Headquarters, Rome, Italy

For this year's edition, we are inviting 30 countries to present their Investment Plans and Opportunities in the Hand-in-Hand Investment Forum. This number will include follow-up reports from several countries which attended the Investment Forum in 2022 as well as 15 countries presenting for the first time. The Forum will also include follow-up presentations on the regional initiatives for the Sahel, crucial for poverty and hunger reduction in a sensitive area of Africa, and the Dry Corridor, vital for job creation and to reduce out-migration in Central America. In this second edition of the Investment Forum four roundtables have been included in the programme. These are a roundtable with Managing Directors and high-ranking officers of International Financial Institutions, another one with Chief Executive Officers and executives from global agrifood firms, a third one with global Foundations and a fourth one with traditional donors.

National and international private investment in agriculture is critical and necessary to sustain accelerated national economic growth, ensure employment, incorporate technology, reduce poverty, and increase food security and sustainable development, while improving macroeconomic stability and protecting fiscal space.

We anticipate a dynamic, in-person participation in the WFF and in the Investment Forum with contributions from Heads of State/Government from all five continents, Ministers from more than 30 countries, senior officers of multilateral development banks, and senior executives from global agrifood firms and other development partners.

Certain that the interventions of the high-ranking representatives of the traditional donors agencies will help inspire the audience to work together to accelerate agrifood systems transformation as a core driver of progress for the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
