26th Session of the Codex Committee on

RESIDUES OF VETERINARY DRUGS IN FOODS

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations
The 26th Session of the Codex Committee on Residues of Veterinary Drugs in Foods (CCRVDF26) will take place from February 12th-February 17th, in Portland, Oregon, at the Hilton Portland Downtown.

Details regarding on-site registration and the agenda will be posted at a time closer to the event.
The Codex Secretariat uses the Codex Online Registration System (ORS) to track delegate registrations for CCRVDF26. Please ensure that your Codex Contact Point (for member countries and observer organizations) registers all members of your delegation for the upcoming session, via the following link: http://www.fao.org/fao-who-codexalimentarius/registration/en/

Please note that the invitation to CCRVDF26 issued by FAO and WHO requests that delegates register by January 13, 2023.

We encourage all delegates who expect to attend CCRVDF26 to register well in advance to ensure that appropriate seating arrangements will be available at the meeting.

Please note that the CCRVDF26 meeting registration is a separate process from the hotel reservations for sleeping accommodations at the Hilton Portland Downtown Hotel (please see section below “CCRVDF26 Venue Hotel”).
VISA REQUIREMENTS

If you require a visa to enter the United States, we strongly encourage you to begin the visa application process as soon as possible. Most delegates will be considered “independent travelers” and will need to apply for a B1/B2 visa. Diplomats and other foreign government officials traveling to the United States to engage solely in official duties or activities on behalf of their national government must obtain A-1 or A-2 visas prior to entering the United States. They cannot travel using visitor visas or under the Visa Waiver Program.

https://travel.state.gov/content/visas/en/visit/visitor.html

According to the U.S. State Department, all government officials will need a diplomatic note to accompany the visa application. In addition, many U.S. Embassies require in-person interviews that may take time to schedule, and openings may not be available at the last moment. Please consult the nearest U.S. Embassy for additional guidance.

Although the U.S. Codex Office cannot influence the visa process, we will assist in any way we can, including providing registration confirmation letters to each registered delegate. It is the responsibility of delegates to begin the visa application process in a timely manner, and if this is not done well in advance, it may not be possible to obtain a visa in time to attend the meeting.

We believe it is important that delegates from all Member Countries and Organizations have the opportunity to participate in Codex meetings. Completing and submitting the visa application promptly will ensure that the work of Codex accurately reflects the views and contributions of all its members.
Portland, Oregon is a port city in the Pacific Northwest and the largest city in the state of Oregon. It is situated at the confluence of the Willamette and Columbia rivers. Portland has a population of 652,503 making it the 26th most populous city in the United States.

Named after Portland, Maine, the Oregon settlement began to be populated in the 1840s, near the end of the Oregon Trail. Its water access provided convenient transportation of goods, and the timber industry was a major force in the city’s early economy. The city’s economy experienced an industrial boom during World War 2.

Portland’s climate is marked by warm, dry summers and cool, rainy winters. This climate is ideal for growing roses, and Portland has been called the “City of Roses” for over a century.
