INDIA & CCSCH

India, often referred to as the 'Spice Bowl of the World', has been home to a rich variety of unique spices and culinary herbs since time immemorial. Fittingly, India has also been the host country of the Codex Committee on Spices and Culinary Herbs (CCSCH) since its inception in 2014.

We are pleased to welcome all participants to Assam, the gateway to North-east India, for the 8th Session of the CCSCH (CCSCH8). The vibrant city of Guwahati will serve as the host for this important gathering.

Located in the north-eastern corner of India, Assam is a land of breathtaking natural beauty and cultural richness. Cradled by the majestic Brahmaputra River and surrounded by lush green landscapes, Assam captivates visitors with its unique charm. Renowned for its rich biodiversity, world-famous tea gardens, and diverse cultural heritage, Assam invites you to experience its mystical rivers, verdant forests, and vibrant traditions.

PLACES OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND GUWAHATI

Guwahati offers a blend of religious sites, wildlife sanctuaries, cultural attractions, and natural beauty. Key places to visit include the Kamakhya Temple, Umananda Temple, and the Assam State Zoo. For wildlife enthusiasts, Pobitora Wildlife Sanctuary and Kaziranga National Park are popular destinations. Additionally, Guwahati Planetarium, Assam State Museum, and Srimanta Sankardev Kalakshetra offer cultural and educational experiences.

Guwahati offers diverse shopping experiences, from bustling street markets to modern shopping malls. For traditional items, Paltan Bazaar and Fancy Bazaar are excellent choices. Paltan Bazaar is known for its Assamese silk sarees, Mekhela Chadors, and handicrafts. Fancy Bazaar offers a wider variety, including tribal jewelry, wooden crafts, and decorative items. For a more contemporary experience, Guwahati has several malls like Central Mall and So hum Mall.

CUISINE

Assamese cuisine reflects its culture and traditions which has its own style and pattern, quite distinct from the rest of the country as well as the other North-eastern states. The traditional food of Assam comes across as a blend of many exotic spices, herbs and condiments. With a wide variety of food to offer, the cuisine of Assam is famous for its distinctive flavouring and influences. The delicacies of Assam boast of a unique charm derived from exotic herbs and vegetables that are used in the dishes adding freshness and magnificent taste.

A traditional meal in Assam comprises of daal, leafy vegetables (xaak), fish (maas) meat (mangkho), khar (alkaline dish), sour dishes (tenga) and a slice of the famous Assamese lemon (nemu). Although all Assamese people cannot be categorised as non-vegetarians but they have their share of flesh for every special occasion be it a pigeon meat, pork, chicken, mutton or a duck roast. Ideally the traditional meal starts with khar (alkaline dish) and ends with a tenga jhul (sour curry) mostly made with fish.
