Codex Committee on Pesticide Residues 55th Session

Side event on the Outcomes from the 4th Global Minor Use Summit

CCPR55

Purpose

The issue of enhancing the registration and establishment of MRLs for minor crops has and remains an ever-present challenge for producers, industry and regulators globally. The establishment of Codex MRLs plays an important role in facilitating global trade in minor crops and supporting domestic registration. The 4th Global Minor Use Summit held in Madrid, Spain, 5-9 February 2024, brought together 170 attendees from over 40 countries to share challenges, exchange ideas, and inform strategies for facilitating access to crop protection solutions for minor crop growers.

This side-event will provide information on the key take outs from the 4th Global Minor Use Summit and future activities being planned to further this important work for the benefit of specialty crop growers globally. This will include work towards, increasing connection with producers to identify key priorities and develop strategies globally through improving investment and research into new technologies in support of domestic registrations and Codex MRLs.
