

WORLD FISHERIES DAY 2019

Social responsibility in the fisheries value chain

SHEIKH ZAYED CENTER, FAO | Thursday, 21 November 2019 • 11:00-13:30

The voice of fishers and fish workers needs to be heard. All over the world, human and labour rights violations and abuses have been documented, and despite commendable efforts by many governments as well as by the industry, there are still too many cases of unacceptable practises taking place. These occur not only in developing countries but can be found also in the developed world, and at all stages of the value chain.

This year, FAO, the Holy See, ILO, and partners celebrate our third World Fisheries Day together, with a focus on ensuring social sustainability throughout the long and complex value chains of the fisheries and aquaculture sector.

Agenda

11:00	Introductory Remarks Ms Maria Helena Semedo, FAO Deputy Director-General
11:10	Ms Alette van Leur, Director of Sectoral Policies Department, ILO
11:30	Presentation of the message of the Holy See for the 2019 World Fisheries Rev. Mons. Bruno Marie Duffé, Secretary, Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development
	Panel Discussion - Moderated by Felix Marttin, Fishery Resource Officer, FAO
11:50	Mr Sebastian Matthews, Executive Director, International Collective in Support of Fishworkers (ICSF) Rev. Joe O'Donnell, Senior Port Chaplain, Apostleship of the Sea, Scotland Mr Javier Garat Pérez, President, Européche Ms Enrica Mammucari, General Secretary, UILA Pesca
12:15	Discussion with participants
12:30	Ms Julie Kuchepatov, Seafood Director, Fair Trade USA Ms Cindy Berman, Head of Modern Slavery Strategy, Ethical Trading Initiative (tbc) Mr Abdellah Srouf, Executive Secretary, General Fisheries Commission for the Mediterranean Mr Seraphin Dedi Nadjé, General Secretary, Fisheries Committee for the West Central Gulf of Guinea
13:10	Discussion with participants
13:20	Concluding Remarks Mgr Fernando Chica Arellano, Permanent Observer Holy See to FAO
13:30	Light buffet

R.S.V.P by 18 November 2019 to FI-Registration@fao.org

Tel: 06 57053346

Interpretation is available in English, Spanish, and Italian
The event will be webcast

#WorldFisheriesDay

Working for #ZeroHunger