

Mr. Chang-Gil Kim

Chang-Gil Kim received a Ph.D. in agricultural economics at Oklahoma State University. His research areas include policy analysis of sustainable agriculture and climate change. As a research director in the Natural Resource and Environment Department at the Korea Rural Economic Institute, he is a principal investigator for research project on developing green growth strategies in the agricultural sector. Since 2009 he has served as a vice-chair of the OECD Joint Working Party of Committee of Agricultural and Environmental Policies. In addition, he now actively serves on the Board of Directors for the Academic Association of Agricultural and Environmental Economics and as a committee member on the Advisory Committee of Green Growth Policy under the Prime Minister's Office and the Presidential Commission on Sustainable Development.