3. Input statistics

Since the last Board Meeting in July, 2004, a total of 86 records have been made by the Swedish input center. During 2004, a total of 90 records were entered to the database. Further entries will be made during 2005, after the Board Meeting.

4. Distribution list for complimentary ASFA entitlements

ASFA CD-ROM, ASFA CSA Internet database

5. Usefulness of ASFA products to users

ASFA CSA Internet database is used regularly by the researchers and other staff at the Swedish National Board of Fisheries.

6. Changes to monitoring list information

There has been one addition to the monitoring list: the publication series of the Swedish Board of Fisheries, see further item 8 below.

Journals on the monitoring list are:

- Acta Zoologica (Stockholm). Stockholm. 0001-7272, SE 000056
- Ambio. Stockholm. 0044-7447, SE 000086
- Fiskeriverket Informerar. Göteborg. (FINFO) 1404-8590
- Meddelande från Havsfiskelaboratoriet, Lysekil. 1103-4777, SE 003200
- Report. Swedish Environmental Protection Agency. Solna. 0282-7298, SE 003203
- Report. Water and Environmental Studies, Linköping. 0281-966X, SE 003206
- SMHI oceanografi. Norrköping. SE 003204
- SMHI reports oceanography. Norrköping. 0283-1112, SE 003205
- Doctoral theses from Swedish Universities

7. Problems

There has been some minor problems concerning printing and downloading records during the past year. These problems were easily solved with the kind help of Dr Rybinski.

8. Development of and improvements of ASFA

The monitoring list of the Swedish input center has been enlarged with one title, the publication series of the Swedish Board of Fisheries, Fiskeriverket Informerar (FINFO). This series includes to a large extent reports and articles which are of the "grey literature" kind that would not be published in scientific journals without extensive revision. Including them in the ASFA database makes them accessible to many more readers.
