World Forestry Congress Side Event

03 May 2022

18:00–19:30 KST

Fire can be a natural and necessary component of ecosystems. However, over the last few years, we have seen dramatic changes in fire dynamics driven by climate change, land use decisions, among many other factors. Join us for our discussion on how the Forests Dialogue is promoting multi-stakeholder engagement to develop better ways of reducing wildfire risks and increasing resilience in the face of climate change.
